History

Discover productions that shine a light on significant historical, social and cultural moments that help bring your textbook to life, including:

- The Soap Myth – set more than half a century after World War 2, this critically acclaimed play questions who has the right to write history, and what is our responsibility once we know the truth?
- All My Sons – Arthur Miller's scathing portrait of American society is set in the aftermath of World War 2.
- Indecent – inspired by true events in 1923, Paula Vogel's Tony-nominated play follows a troupe of Jewish actors as they bring God of Vengeance to the Broadway stage.
